

Our first album cover lol 📀 we had a lot of fun jamming and I've even been doing more singing, we're getting a little list together!

Jack In The Box

22/02/2026 - ISSUE #139

It's a loooong day today, but a fun one and productive, too. I was allowed a lay in at Dad's until 8:30 and was promptly delivered back to Mum's so they could go have breakfast lol. There I worked through my list doing some learning, a job application, and adding to Vinted. I had an impromptu gym session for which I was stronger than expected too. Picked up my falafel, headed home for chicken soup and then went to Andy's where we had a catch up and a jam which was very fun and we toyed with the idea of making our on own! Finally, a quick trip to KFC for my midnight UPFs 😊

Reflections

I'm very lucky I had a boost of energy today, especially considering I still haven't had a full night's sleep, these overdue tasks do need finishing imminently. I'm sorry that I made you doubt I could finish the tasks. I'm so excited for us to have a website that's just ours, and to be thinking about our next trip, and be preparing for the future. All these things I will create and protect because they are what you deserve as the absolute definition of love and peace and beauty in world (not that you always want peace, but it's there).

Today

- Finish website
- 1 x job app
- Research flights
